

Contributors

Nicos Alexiou was born in Volos, Greece, and came to the United States in the mid-1980s. Since 1989 he has taught Sociology at Queens College (CUNY). He has established the Hellenic American Project, an Oral History Archive/Immigration Library/and Museum for the Greek community in New York (www.hapsoc.org). He has authored five books of poetry, and his poems have been published in Greek and American journals and anthologies. He is a member of New York's the Greek American Poets Guild and the Greek Authors Association, in Greece. His latest bi-lingual collection of poems, is The Silver Sphinx (Athens: Melani Press, 2019).

Annamarie Buonocore is a writer and publisher in San Mateo, CA. She is the former publisher of Voices of Hellenism Literary Journal and currently publishes In Flight USA, BizAvJets Magazine, and Born to Age San Mateo County. She enjoys reading, Toastmasters, and spending time with her two Maltipoos, Pericles and Sophocles. She enjoys writing short stories and longer works about the Greek Americans of Northwest Indiana.

Van Coufoudakis is professor and Dean Emeritus of the College of Arts and Sciences at Indiana University-Purdue University. His publications include International Aggression and Violations of Human Rights: The Case of Turkey in Cyprus, Cyprus: A Contemporary Problem in Historical Perspective, and Cyprus and International Politics—Essays by Van Coufoudakis. He also served for two terms as President of the Modern Greek Studies Association.

Panayiotis Diamadis is a genocide scholar and historian. He received his doctorate at The University of Sydney (Australia). He is currently a director of the Australian Institute for Holocaust and Genocide Studies.

Vasili Ioannidis is pursuing an BA in Economics with a minor in Modern Greek Language and Culture at the University of Michigan and is expected to graduate in 2021. He was an American Hellenic Institute research intern in the summer of 2020 and a participant of the 11th annual AHIF Foreign Policy College Student Trip to Greece and Cyprus in 2019.

Hershby Jalluri is part of the Class of 2021 at the University of Michigan, studying Economics and Psychology along with minoring in Business, History, and the Environment. She has been a writer and an editor for the Michigan Foreign Policy Council primarily in MFPC's Global Health and Climate & Energy teams, working on topics such as analyzing responses to the Zika Virus, evaluating private and public control of the energy sector in South American countries, investigating public health infrastructures in various states in India, and more.

Penelope Karageorge, a journalist, prize-winning poet and novelist, is the author of a mystery novel, Murder at Tomorrow (Walker), and Stolen Moments (Pinnacle), the latter published in England as Winners and in Germany as New York, New York. Pella published her first poetry collection, Red Lipstick and the Wine-Dark Sea. Somerset Hall published her most recent collection, The Neon Suitcase. She is director of the Greek-American Writers Association in New York.

Nicholas G. Karambelas, Esq. has practiced law for more than 40 years in Washington DC and New York City, with correspondent offices in Athens, Greece and Nicosia, Cyprus. He is a director on the Board of Directors of the American Hellenic Institute in Washington DC. He holds a B.A. from Union College, a J.D. from Fordham University School of Law and a Master of International Affairs from Columbia University School of International and Public Affairs. He has published treatises and numerous articles on law, politics and history.

Anthony Katsaounis is a senior undergraduate student at the Max M. Fisher College of Business at the Ohio State University (Columbus, Ohio) majoring in Business and Economics. He is also a member of the Politics, Society, and Law Scholars program and the Sigma Epsilon Phi Greek Orthodox student organization at the Ohio State University. He plans to graduate in 2021 and to pursue graduate studies in a field related to economics and law.

Klearchos A. Kyriakides was born in London. He holds an LLB Hons (Law & Politics Degree: U of Birmingham) and a MPhil (Int. Relations) and PhD (History: U of Cambridge), and post grad diplomas from the U of Westminster. He qualified as a Solicitor of the Senior Courts of England and Wales in 2003 and practiced law in London until 2007. He taught at the U of Westminster (2002-2015) and has since been teaching law at the School of Law on the Cyprus campus of the U of Central Lancashire) and has served as Deputy Head of School since 2019.

Matthew Achilles Kokkinos is the Coordinator for the Negotiation Task Force at the Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies at Harvard University. Matt is a Cypriot-American and a recent graduate of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, where he earned a Master of Arts in Law and Diplomacy and specialized in International Security Studies and Russian and Eurasian Studies. He also holds a Bachelor of Science in Political Science from Northeastern University and a participant in the AHIF Foreign Policy Trip to Greece and Cyprus in 2016.

Kenneth Larson is a second-year student at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor presently studying Political Science and International Studies. He is currently an editor and thrice-published author in the Michigan Foreign Policy Review and serves as a political consultant for several non-profits and electoral campaigns.

Perry S. Nicholas is an English Professor at Erie Community College North in Buffalo, N.Y. He has published one textbook of poetry prompts, three full-length and five chapbooks of original poetry, and two CDs of poetry. He has hosted four poetry venues in the WNY area. Perry has judged the Just Buffalo poetry contest, the national Poetry Out Loud competition, and has been guest lecturer at Villa Maria College, Niagara Community College, Buffalo State College, and New York College in Athens, Greece. You can see his work at perrynicholas.com.

Nicholas Samaras was born on Patmos. At the time of the Greek junta, he was brought into exile to be raised in America. He has since lived in England, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany Yugoslavia, Israel, Greece, and 13 American states. He writes from what he terms "a permanent exile." His first book, Hands of the Saddlemaker won the Yale Series of Younger Poets Award in 1991. His latest book is World Psalm, published by Ashland Poetry Press.

George Stratigakis was born in Sparti, Greece. His writings have appeared in The Wisconsin Review, Thimble Literary, Quiddity International Journal, Contemporary American Voices, and The American Aesthetic, among others. He teaches at the State College of Florida.

George Tsogkas (Rear admiral, retired) served in the Hellenic Navy for third-six years. He is a surface Warfare Officer who graduated from the Naval Postgraduate School (Monterey, CA) with a Master's degree in information Technology Management. He also holds a diploma from the Defence College. Read Admiral Tsogkas is a frequent lecturer on NATO-EU relations Maritime Security Operations issues.

Gabriella Valderrama is a third-year undergraduate student at the University of Michigan studying the Environment and International Studies with an emphasis on energy. In the future, she hopes to pursue a career in environmental policy.